

Dear Members of FDIC,

I wanted to take a moment and say thank-you for sponsoring my attendance to the JumpStart National Educator conference this year. The opportunity to attend such an amazing event and see the resources, gather ideas, and share contacts with other teachers was beyond repayment. Not only did I have the chance to gather these things for myself and my grade level, I was able to bring back many things for the middle and high school teachers in my district.

One of the most exciting workshops I went to was the FAME workshop where I learned how to take my project of a class economy and digitalize the experience by utilizing a program created in Maine. I also enjoyed the online sites that offered different games, ideas, or lessons to help strengthen my personal finance lessons and engage students using both technology and hands-on applications.

I also really loved the hotel, food, and weekend. It felt great to be so pampered and valued. The hotel was beautiful, the food was delicious, the speakers were outstanding, and the location was perfect! I feel honored to have received your sponsorship. I cannot wait until next year to learn more and see what additional elementary school resource support will be developed and offered in Atlanta, GA. Thank-you so much, again, for your generosity.

Sincerely,

Holly Bosley
